the Sierra on Wednesday morning for San Francisco, after a most enjoyable visit in the Islands.

Among the recent arrivals at the Hotel Pleasanton are Mrs. and Miss Hertz of San Francisco, who arrived in the last Sierra from the mainland and expect to spend the fall in Honolulu.

Mr. R. T. S. Durston entertained at a handsome dinner for Mrs. Madden, Mrs. Ada Capwell and Mrs. W. R. Potter, at the Pleasanton on Saturday evening as a farewell to Mrs. Madden who left on Sunday morning in the Korea for San Francisco, after spending several months in the Islands.

Pale lavender asters, combined with sprays of lace maidenhair fern, formed a dainty centerpiece with the same scattered over the cloth with pale lavender silk and fringed candelabra and place cards depicting oriental scenes completing the exquisite appointments.

After dinner the host and his guests motored to the Moana Hotel to attend the dance which was given at the seashore hotel on that evening.

Mrs. Colley entertained a few friends at cards on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Wilder avenue, in honor of Mrs. Harrison.

The engagement is announced of Mrs. Ada G. Capwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wood, to Mr. R. T. S. Durston.

A congenial party spent yesterday at Waialae, where an impromptu and enjoyable al fresco luncheon was enjoyed. Mrs. Ward and her daughters, Miss Kulumani and Miss Lucy Ward, were hostesses, and the outing was given for H. M. Queen Liliuokalani and party.

Miss Lilian Robertson entertained on Thursday at a handsomely appointed luncheon, at which covers were laid for six. The occasion was the charming young hostess' birthday, she being the happy recipient of many very beautiful gifts and flowers and hearty congratulations.

The luncheon table bore as a centerpiece a heaping basket of American Beauty roses, with old rose satin bows attached to the handle and runners of smilax over the cloth to each place. The name cards were rose buds done in water colors, the work of the hostess who is a talented artist, and the decorations throughout the entire house were carried out in maidenhair ferns and exquisite American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Arthur Wilder, who has been spending the past fortnight at Haleiwa, returned to her Waikiki home again Thursday and is being welcomed by her friends, after her enjoyable vacation in the country.

Mrs. French entertained at a very charming tea on Thursday afternoon at the Pleasanton in compliment to the birthday of Mrs. F. E. Richardson. La France roses and palms formed a pretty setting for the guests, and a most delightful afternoon was spent informally. Delicious refreshments of tea, sandwiches, cakes and punch were served by little Japanese maids and those present were Mrs. F. E. Richardson, Mrs. George Brown, Miss Armstrong, of Colorado, a sister of Mrs. Brown, who is at present visiting her, Miss Schott, the hostess' sister who is also a guest at the Pleasanton, Mrs. William Weinrich and Mrs. French.

Miss Rosie Herber was a charming hostess yesterday at an informal tea, the occasion being a little social afternoon with a few of her friends. The guests were received in the lanai, which was enclosed in palms and beautiful hanging baskets of ferns, and cut flowers were placed about. Tea and delicious refreshments were served during the intermission in the conservatory which was absorbing and interesting, and the afternoon was enjoyably spent by the little group.

Those invited to gather at this dainty little party were Miss Ray Bell, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Bertha Marshall and Miss Nadine Center.

Cards have been issued to a musicale, which is to be given at the residence of Judge and Mrs. S. M. Ballou on Tuesday evening next at eight o'clock.

The palatial home of Judge and Mrs.

Ballou is becoming a musical center, and many very pleasant evenings have been given on the crest of the hill beneath the great trees which adorn the estate.

The coming musicale is interesting society, it being invitational, and over one hundred cards have been sent.

For the first time in years Mrs. Ballou will be heard at the piano in some of the artistic work which has gained for her praise and commendation from critics all over the states and abroad and she will be warmly welcomed again after her long silence.

Besides the pianoforte work, there will be heard, for the first time ever in Honolulu, Liza Lehmann's wonderful and magic setting of "The Persian Garden," of intense interest to music lovers who are anticipating its production with much pleasure.

Mrs. Allan White, whose lyric soprano voice has won for her the greatest appreciation here and abroad, will be heard for the last time in this city as she leaves in September with her family to reside permanently in Paris.

Mrs. Stephen Norton Bobo, whose rich contralto voice has stirred her audiences here and won her many admirers, will also be heard, and Mr. Arthur Wall and Mrs. Brown will complete the quartette ensemble.

Mrs. J. J. Dowling is entertaining a week end party at her country home at Heaia on the windward side of the island for a few days.

There is a great assembly of society people at Moanalua this afternoon to witness the second match of the polo tournament.

Mrs. Harold Castle entertained at an elaborate luncheon on Thursday at the mansion of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Castle at Waikiki in honor of Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham. Palms and ferns are always a graceful complement to this luxurious home and in addition American beauty roses in tall rare vases graced the side tables and heaped in a basket formed the centerpiece on the luncheon table. Old rose satin ribbon as streamers and tulle enhanced the beauty of the dainty appointments of silver and rock crystal, which in themselves adorned the table. The place cards depicting roses were the handiwork of the gracious young hostess.

Those present at this dainty and beautiful luncheon were Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham, Mrs. Joe Hedemann, Mrs. Harry Hepburn, Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Mrs. W. D. Baldwin, Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Garrit Judd, Mrs. S. M. Ballou, Mrs. Robert Atkinson and Mrs. Harold Castle.

After luncheon, a musical program was a delightful feature, Mrs. Allan White rendering in her thrilling soprano three selections, a little French song by Massenet, a German song by Lessen and the Aria from the Cid by Massenet, which were greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Castle was becomingly gowned in a modish afternoon frock of pale blue liberty satin.

Mrs. Dillingham attracted a great deal of admiration as usual attired in a French confection of white crepe with sleeves of pale blue chiffon in Persian effect, and a chic white capelet adorned with a pom-pom of tiny white feathers.

Mrs. Hepburn wore a very handsome imported white lingerie afternoon frock, and a large hat of black lace over gold tissue trimmed with magenta roses.

Mrs. James Judd was very lovely in a gown of embroidered cream pina cloth over cream silk and wearing a champagne colored hat of fine straw bearing gracefully Alice blue willow plumes.

Mrs. Schmidt entertained delightfully and informally two tables of bridge on Tuesday afternoon in her apartments at the Alexander Young Hotel. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. Carl Wideman and the second prize to Miss Ada Rhodes.

Those present at this informal afternoon were Princess Kawanakoa, Princess Kalaniana'ole, Mrs. Marix, wife of Captain Marix, U. S. M. C., Mrs. Dowling, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mrs. Carl Wideman, Miss Ada Rhodes and Miss Dreyfus of Paris.

The garden party given by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Castle on Saturday afternoon was a very brilliant affair, all the friends and class mates of President King, of Oberlin College, for whom the affair was given responding eagerly to the invitation to meet this distinguished visitor.

The hours of receiving were from four to six and the reception was held beneath the shade trees which grace the expansive and beautiful lawns of the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Castle.

No decorations, indeed, were required on this occasion, the profuse clusters of golden snows with which many of the beautiful trees are laden being all of a color tone required and a more dainty setting could not have been arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Castle were assisted in receiving by Rev. and Mrs. Ebersole, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, and Mrs. Chas. Atherton. Others assisting to entertain the numerous guests were Miss Alice Oleson and Miss Shaw.

Mrs. Benjamin Marx and Mrs. Bodefelt graciously presided over the punch bowl.

President King will have been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Castle a fortnight when he finally leaves for San Francisco on the 20th of this month, thereby completing his trip round the world.

Today the Oahu team is playing the Kaula boys, and the friends of each being numerous, and the spirit of rivalry having been instigated in the first game, there no doubt will be far more enthusiasm displayed this afternoon, than hitherto.

At the far end of the field is a thatched pavilion as formerly and in this bower the reception committee are receiving and serve a delicious fruit punch and cake.

These ladies are Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham, Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Sam Baldwin, Mrs. Will Baldwin, Mrs. R. Ivers and Mrs. Robert Atkinson.

There is to be a different committee at each of the games, four more to be played later.

Misses Sarah and Daisy Colburn, daughters of Mr. John F. Colburn, departed in the last Sierra for San Francisco for a two months' stay. While on the coast the Misses Colburn will visit their friend, Mrs. Ellis, in Oakland.

Mr. John F. Colburn entertained at a very elaborate farewell luau uncheon at his Peninsula home on Sunday, in honor of his two daughters, Miss Sarah and Miss Daisy Colburn, who left in the Sierra on Wednesday for San Francisco. The feast was spread on a large table under the spreading shade trees on the lawn, looking out over the water, and a more delightful spot could not have been selected for the enjoyable affair.

All Mr. Colburn's luau are famous both for attractiveness of appointments and for genial hospitality which always abounds when he presides.

and this feast was rather more attractive than any he has given.

About thirty guests were hidden to attend, and they were seated at a table strewn with maidenhair fern and cut crimson carnations which all but concealed the snowy linen.

A huge calabash overflowing with red carnations and malle held the place of honor in the center of the table, and each guest found a fragrant lei of the same at each place to wear during the meal.

Very soft sweet music was provided during luncheon by a quintette of girl singers, selected for the quality of their voices which blended harmoniously in the old folk lore songs of long ago sung in honor of the presence of chiefs. The afternoon was spent in boating on the still waters of Pearl Harbor.

Those present at this very delightful occasion were Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole, Princess Kawanakoa, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ashford, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas, Colonel Sam Parker, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Colburn, Miss Emma Hughes, Mrs. M. A. Nawahl, Mrs. Helen Rose, Miss Bertha Lyceet, Miss Mary Low, Miss Helen Colburn, Miss Daisy Colburn, Mrs. M. Berger, Miss Sarah Colburn, Messrs. George McCorriston, Harold Simpson, Henry Roth, George and Henry Beckley, R. K. Forney, William Rosa, John Colburn III and Charles R. Colfax.

Princess Kalaniana'ole attracted flattering attention attired in a modish lingerie, princess gown and wearing a black lace hat with lavender flowers.

Princess Kawanakoa was as ever faultlessly attired according to the season's latest decree in a tailored frock of pongee silk and wearing a large black hat with sable plumes.

OAKLAND, July 30.—A notable wedding took place this evening at the First Unitarian church of Berkeley when Robert E. Bond claimed Miss Rowena Elston as his bride. The ceremony was simply and beautifully appointed, masses of pale pink hydrangeas forming the unusual decorative scheme. A large number of guests witnessed the marriage service, which was read by Rev. E. M. Wilbur, dean of the Unitarian theological seminary, although only the members of the immediate family and a few of the most intimate friends were included in the invitations to the informal reception which followed in Unity hall.

The bridal gown was of heavy white satin closely following the princess model and finished with a long train. The bodice was beautifully trimmed in duchess lace. The veil was held in place by a spray of orange blossoms and the bride carried a shower of lilies of the valley.

Miss Sue Clark was the only at-
